

STEWART BROTHERS CONCRETE

Slavery & Human Trafficking Statement

Introduction

The following policy applies to all persons working for / under our employ or on behalf of the company in any capacity. This includes employees at all levels, managers and directors, office and administrative staff, agency workers, contractors and suppliers.

At Stewart Brothers Concrete, we consider human trafficking a despicable and hidden blight on our global society. As human beings, we owe a level of responsibility to be vigilant and alert to the risks, no matter how small, within our company and throughout the larger supply chain that connects us in our field of work and in our daily lives to act upon them.

Modern Slavery and Human Trafficking

Modern slavery is a blanket term used to describe any and all forms of slavery, servitude, forced and compulsory labour and child labour. Human trafficking is where a person arranges or facilitates the travel of another person with a view to said person being exploited. Modern slavery is a serious crime and in the most basic sense a complete and total violation of fundamental human rights.

Our Business

We are a supplier of ready-mixed concrete and aggregates to domestic consumers and the construction industry.

Our supply chains consist of the sourcing of cementitious materials and aggregates for the purpose of the manufacture and supply of ready-mixed concrete.

Our Policy

We are committed to guaranteeing that there is no connection or affiliation to modern slavery or human trafficking of any kind, be it within our company or across our supply chains, contractors and contacts. Our policy is intended as a reflection of our dedication to acting in all matters of the business with the upmost ethics and integrity and maintaining a vigilant environment to meet expectations across the board.
